Dear Secretary

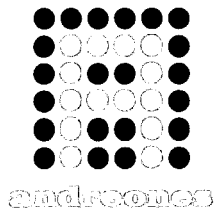

I would like to invite you and your members to Andreones, Lawyers Expert Forum 2008 on 23 May 2008 at the Powerhouse Museum.

We are a specialist law firm that conducts many construction defects claims for strata and community title schemes as well as other property owners. As a result, we deal with many building experts and consultants and have developed extensive expertise and understanding of the role they play in defect identification, analysis and rectification.

Our Expert Forum is an annual half-day event aimed at educating, informing and updating industry professionals - engineers, architects, consultants and others. As well as harnessing our own specialist expertise, the forums also typically feature one or more keynote speakers who are respected experts in their field. Since we believe improving our industry's individual and collective knowledge plays a critical role in our shared industry success, we designed the Expert Forum to help experts -

- keep abreast of legal developments and other relevant requirements,
- identify current and future issues and trends,
- get feedback on issues and exchange ideas, and
- improve the way we all do our business.

The 2007 Expert Forum was held at the Powerhouse Museum on 11 May 2007 and featured Greg Anderson speaking on expert reports, the Defect Chat Room, Professor Marton Marosszeczy and the Experts Quiz.

It's time for Andreones, Lawyers sixth Expert Forum to keep informing the experts we work with of the latest developments in building defect claims

If you're involved in building defect claims (in a small or big way) you should come to Andreones, Lawyers Expert Forum.

This year, our sixth Expert Forum for building experts associated with claims for compensation for defective design or construction of new buildings will be held on Friday, 23 May 2008 at the Coles Theatre, Powerhouse Museum.

Our Expert Forum is a half-day event designed to educate, inform and update industry professionals - engineers, architects, consultants and others.

As well as harnessing our own specialist expertise, the forum features a keynote speaker who is respected in their field.

Since we believe improving our industry's individual and collective knowledge plays a critical role in stakeholder outcomes, we designed the Expert Forum to help you –

- keep up with legal developments and other relevant requirements,
- identify current and future issues and trends,
- get feedback and exchange ideas, and
- improve the way we all do our business

And it's FREE.

You can find out more about the Andreones Lawyers Expert Forum 2008 at our website - www.andreones.com

At this year's Forum you'll hear about some of the trickier issues for experts as well as, the claim and litigation process, listen to leading lawyers discuss some of the challenges and issues faced in building defect claims in the Chat Room, and watch teams of experts compete in the Experts Quiz.

And, this year our quest speaker is Henk van den Heuvel, the General Manager of Andersal Engineering Pty Ltd who will speak about building defects from the perspective of the rectifying builder. His company's specialisation in remedial waterproofing, concrete repairs, crack repairs, facade restoration, heritage restoration and coatings means he can help us understand the issues that arise when the building is repaired.

We have tickets for the Expert Forum again this year. So, if you want to attend, get your tickets by contacting us on 8267 6100 or e-mailing us at forums@andreones.com.
